MEETING NOTES

Round Table Sharing:

Todd Barber (Elk Grove) – The Elk Grove technology department is working mostly with devices including Chromebook deployment. The district has official funding for one-to-one devices and laptops for teachers.

Erica Swift (Elk Grove) – Swift is focusing on professional development for teachers and how to use technology most effectively.

Nicole Naditz (San Juan) – Teachers have shown they know how to use the equipment; now focusing on professional learning around meaningful leverage of technology. How to utilize distance learning tools in person.

Kari (Folsom) – Taking in Chromebooks and preparing more to go out.

What would you say is your biggest need that could be provided by this group? Or through collaboration.

Elk Grove - Elementary Lessons and units for video production that can be shared.

San Juan - Digital Citizenship reading list used for story time in the classrooms. - <https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1okEo1IEc2ogM3aWbbi5kEIfcAkMIIPUEP-gebqM2MnQ/edit#gid=0>

SECC:

PORTS Project (https://youtu.be/Kp_uu4zgnxs)

SECC partnered with the PORTS Program for a SEVA CON event and has been looking for more opportunities since. The PORTS Program provides students with the opportunity to visit California parks from their classrooms or homes. Teachers can schedule interactive visits with their students and park interpreters who are on-site at the parks. The program also provides supporting educational materials for students.
